

A diagram showing a split-screen layout. A vertical white bar is positioned in the center, separating the left and right content areas. The left area is labeled 'left content' and the right area is labeled 'right content'. A legend at the bottom left shows a small white rectangle followed by the text 'draggable bar'.

left
content

right
content

 draggable bar