```

A UML class diagram showing a hierarchy of three classes: widget, container, and mapbuf. The widget class is at the top, the container class is in the middle, and the mapbuf class is at the bottom. A vertical line connects the bottom of the widget box to the top of the container box, with a hollow triangle pointing upwards towards the widget box. Another vertical line connects the bottom of the container box to the top of the mapbuf box, with a hollow triangle pointing upwards towards the container box.
